Extortion at HUDCC

By Cynthia D. Salinas

A SUSPECTED extortionist in the National Home Mortgage Finance Corp. (NHMFCC) who has been victimizing landowners and homeowners' association was arrested yesterday in an entrapment operation of the National Bureau of Investigation.

Vice President Noli de Castro, chair of the Housing and Urban Development Coordinating Council (HUDCC), identified the suspect as Nestor Pavila, former head of the Task Force Community Mortgage Program of the NHMFCC, an agency under the HUDCC.

De Castro said the entrapment operation was prompted by a complaint from Leonida Discoria, a member of the NAAS Homeowners Association, Inc. from Cacerang, Marikina in Pinar, Bulacan.

He said the HUDCC had received complaints against Pavila, who had allegedly been demanding grease money from land owners and members of homeowners' association doing business with the agency. Pavila was caught with P85,000 in his drawer which, De Castro said, represented grease money he collected for the day.

Trees serve as centerpiece of residential development

By Danilo S. Sison

NESTLED in a lush, green landscape, the new residential development in the heart of the city is a testament to the power of nature in modern living.

The project, which is set to be completed by the end of the year, will feature a mix of housing units, from small studios to large family homes, all designed to blend seamlessly with the surrounding environment.

The development is located in a prime area, just a short drive from the city center, and offers residents a peaceful retreat from the hustle and bustle of urban life.

One of the key features of the project is the extensive use of trees and greenery, which not only enhances the aesthetic appeal but also provides a natural cooling effect, reducing the need for air conditioning.

The developers have also incorporated sustainable building practices, using eco-friendly materials and energy-efficient appliances to minimize the project's carbon footprint.

Overall, the project represents a new paradigm in residential development, one that prioritizes the well-being of its residents and the health of the planet.

No nails used in sword-shaped structure

A PALACE built without any architectural plans and without using a single nail?

If you think this is next to impossible, the Malaysians thought otherwise.

The Perak Royal Museum did not have a blueprint when it was planned and built as a temporary palace in 1926.

AMAZING STRUCTURES

The sword-shaped structure did not require a single nail either. The impressive building's walls were made from woven dried bamboo and patterned in diamond motifs called the "teluk." (The very own "bahay kubu" immediately comes to mind.)

The roof is in the shape of a traditional Malay house with five ridges. Completed in 1931, it was to serve as a temporary palace for Sultan Iskandar Shah, the 30th Sultan of Perak, when the original royal palace was burnt down to give way to the new Istana Iskandariah.

The museum was previously known as Istana Kenangan, Istana Tepas and Istana Ummah and stands near the Istana Iskandariah, official palace of the Sultan of Perak, at Kuala Kangsar. It houses the Royal Regalia, photographs of the Royal Family, illustrations and relics of the past and present monarchy in Perak. Donna M. Villaflorte

Making big money in distressed property

PROPERTY-IN-DISTRESS offers a lot of opportunities to real estate investors not only in terms of good profit but also the opportunity of saving the owner's credit standing and re-injecting equity in the property. In addition, the good image of the neighborhood is restored after rehabilitating dilapidated pieces of property. It also saves the distressed owner from more sleepless nights and gives him a new start with the money saved from the avoided foreclosure.

To learn more techniques on how to profitably invest in distressed properties, Urban Institute of Real Estate invites investors to attend a seminar on "Making Big Money in Distressed Properties" at the Maximo Function Room, Max's Restaurant, Level 2, Gateway Mall, Araneta Center, Cubao, Quezon City, on July 14 from 1:30 to 6 p.m.

The four-hour lecture includes how to solve the owner's problem; the overall strategies; keys to success; how to find distressed property/sellers; how to make your offer; important provisions for your protection; negotiating strategies with owner and lender; common mistakes that should be avoided; valuing property by mini appraisal; many tips on inspecting property; financing; rehabilitating the property; selling the property; documentation and registration; taxation; and other important topics.

Urban Institute is also conducting on the same time and venue a series of other topics, which can be attended separately, as follows: July 4—Investing in Real Estate: Opportunities, Techniques and What Are Needed to Learn before Investing; July 5—Property Development and HLURB Rules And Regulations; July 6—Real Estate Finance and Investment Analysis; July 7—Joint Ventures and Syndications for Real Estate Projects;

July 8—Property Management and Real Estate Appraisal; July 11—How to Start and Manage a Successful Real Estate Brokerage Company; July 12—Taxation Aspects of Real Estate Transactions and Real Property Assessment; July 13—Legal Aspect of Sale, Mortgage and Lease with Contract Documentation and Registration; July 15—Mathematics of Real Estate Investment.

Lecturer is engineer Emrico S. Cruz, who is a licensed real estate consultant and a real estate fellow and has more than three decades of working experience in engineering, construction, real estate development and education. He placed first in the real estate appraiser's board examinations in 1994 and 8th in the real estate brokers board examination in 1983.

Phylogenetic Relationships of Utricularia spp. in the Middle East

Abstract

Background: Utricularia is a genus of small, aquatic, and terrestrial plants. It is one of the most diverse genera in the family Lentibulariaceae. The genus is distributed worldwide, with a high concentration in the tropics. In the Middle East, Utricularia is represented by several species, including U. vulgaris, U. minor, and U. intermedia. The aim of this study was to determine the phylogenetic relationships of these species and to identify any new species.

Methods: The study was conducted in the Middle East, specifically in the Levant region. A total of 10 specimens of Utricularia were collected from different locations. The specimens were identified based on morphological characteristics and compared with the type specimens of U. vulgaris, U. minor, and U. intermedia. The phylogenetic relationships were determined using molecular data (DNA sequencing) and morphological data.

Results: The results of the study showed that the specimens collected in the Middle East belong to three species: U. vulgaris, U. minor, and U. intermedia. The specimens of U. vulgaris were found to be closely related to the type specimen of U. vulgaris. The specimens of U. minor were found to be closely related to the type specimen of U. minor. The specimens of U. intermedia were found to be closely related to the type specimen of U. intermedia.

Conclusions: The study confirmed the presence of U. vulgaris, U. minor, and U. intermedia in the Middle East. The study also identified a new species of Utricularia, U. novae, which was found in the Levant region. The new species is characterized by its small size, aquatic habit, and unique morphology.

Keywords: Utricularia, Middle East, phylogenetic relationships, new species.

Jollibee eyes wider Asian reach

By Michael S. Smith

MANILA, Philippines — Jollibee Corp., the Philippines' largest fast-food chain, is looking to expand its reach into other Asian markets. The company, which has over 1,000 outlets in the Philippines, is currently negotiating with potential partners in Indonesia, Malaysia, and Thailand. Jollibee's expansion strategy is part of a broader effort to diversify its revenue streams and reduce its reliance on the Philippine market.

The company's expansion into other Asian markets is a natural progression, given its success in the Philippines. Jollibee's food, which is a blend of American and Filipino flavors, has gained popularity throughout the region. The company's management believes that there is a significant market for its products in other Asian countries, and it is looking to capitalize on this opportunity.

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and blood pressure (BP) of sedentary, middle-aged men. The subjects were divided into two groups: a control group and a training group. The training group performed a 10-week training program consisting of aerobic and resistance exercises. The control group did not exercise. The HR and BP were measured at baseline and at the end of the 10-week training program. The results showed that the training group had a significant decrease in HR and BP compared to the control group. The HR decreased from 72 to 68 beats per minute, and the BP decreased from 120/80 to 110/70 mmHg. The control group showed no significant change in HR and BP. The results suggest that a 10-week training program can effectively reduce HR and BP in sedentary, middle-aged men.
